

COUNCIL TAX FOR POLICING 2015 -16

Building a Safer Bedfordshire

Policing costs

This year Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins has set a budget of £104.606m for 2015/16 compared to £101.691m in 2014/15. This figure includes an increase in the amount of council tax paid towards policing (the Police Precept) of 15.8% compared to 2014/15 which means that a Band D property will rise by £24.80 a year, or 48p a week – making a total of £181.35 per annum. Of the total police budget 66% will come from the government and the remaining 34% via the local council tax. Because the Police Precept rise is higher than 2% it has to be approved in a referendum.*

What your money will be used for

The 15.8% increase will raise around £4.5m which will be used to fund 100 additional police officers. This will mean that warranted officers can be put back into Neighbourhood Policing Teams in each part of the County. The majority of Police Constables were removed from local teams in 2012.

- 30 additional officers in Central Bedfordshire
- 25 additional officers in Luton
- 20 additional officers in Bedford Borough
- 25 more will be trained as specialists to tackle cyber-crime and child-sexual exploitation

The increase will come into effect in April 2015, although the Referendum will not take place until General Election day on 7 May 2015. It is important that you are aware that you are being asked whether you support the increase that was introduced in April and not another increase following the vote.
